What is More Than Music?

More Than Music is the brainchild of contemporary Christian musician and educator Brittany McCants. While working as an afterschool tutor and Sunday school teacher, Ms. McCants noticed a lack of communication skills, reasoning and problem solving skills, and confidence in her students.

Now, Ms. McCants uses her twenty-one years of classical music training and her B.A. degree in education to teach students to do more than “just play a song.”

While immersed in music theory and the performance and survey of musical literature students use mathematical, language, and memory and reasoning skills that will benefit them academically.

What Can Music do for my Child?

In 2003, Brittany McCants appeared on the Oprah Winfrey Show and the game show Jeopardy! She credits her musical training from the age of five with helping to guide her towards a fulfilling path for her life. Many studies have also shown that music can enhance the lives of children in numerous way.

Learning to play an instrument improves the abstract reasoning skills necessary to learn math and science.
